list -all Program installed How do I know if Yodot is still on my keylogger? A: Since Yodot is open source, you can always check if the source code is available to you, by taking a look at the /src directory. If you would like to check it, you could search for a particular file like this: find / -name *.js -exec grep -l 'key_logger_name' {} \; For a more complete command you could try: find / -name *.js -exec grep -l 'key_logger_name' {} \; -print If the key_logger_name is defined in a file, that will be the first line of the file. It's always the same in my source code. In case you still need more help, you can post the output to the developer mailing list.
